Join 200 children from across Tower Hamlets for a joyful celebration of English and Bengali folk traditions, inspired by Bangladesh's river songs and East London's maritime past. Featuring Bengali folk songs, English sea shanties, and newly composed songs, the performance will be led by singers Jessica Summers and Sohini Alam, with live music from British-Bengali band Khiyo and local tabla students.

This event is free and unticketed.

"Water Songs" is produced and delivered by THAMES (Tower Hamlets Arts and Music Education Service) and World Heart Beat, as part of its Trinity Buoy Sounds project.
